Mission statement:

Human Rights Club is dedicated to the empowerment of vulnerable groups, human rights activists and organizations, as well as to the education of governmental and non-governmental agencies officials and decision makers on human rights issues and the role of civil society. It emphasizes a diverse array of cross-disciplinary activities designed to consider, constructively and critically, the problems and prospects of human rights in South East Europe.

Activities:

- Raising public awareness on issues related to human rights, civic and social participation, equal opportunities, multiculturalism, tolerance and pluralism by organizing informational campaigns, offering independent surveys and analyses, popularisation of ideas and encouragement of public discussions.
- Development and implementation of human rights educational programs in Bulgaria and South East Europe.
- Developing civic networks, working in cooperation with local authorities and governmental institutions on human rights promotion and human rights education.
- Advocacy and lobbying for human rights on local, national and regional level.
